

*Don't Belch
in my Ear*

UGLY PICTURES

The WORST of AFBP

Academy For Bad Photographs

Since its founding as an Online University, the Academy has attracted not merely “bad” photographs, but the singularly bad from across the Internet. Pictures that are actually painful to look at. Here then is an anthology of the worst of the worst, as compiled by the illustrious Academy, serially submitted to prestigious photo competitions...only to be eliminated after provoking sneers, sobs, uncontrolled shaking, and projectile vomiting. Competition judges have sustained sprains and paper cuts from tearing up meaty AFBP tomes with their bare hands. Others had to be sedated, and sent home under escort. Organizers begged the Academy to put its name and return address on the outside of the submission envelope. The Academy’s efforts to gain notoriety have been called out as a form of pictorial bullying – yet it persists. But enough foolish hyperbole. Be mindful, or (at least) inebriated, before viewing these disturbingly malconceived images!

